Luther B. Wolven, Retired Philadelphia Policeman, Killed by Hit-Run Driver On West O'Reilly Street at Cemetery Gate

Investigation Is Begun to Locate Driver of Death Car; Killed Instantly

Autopsy Is Taken

Fractured Skull, Broken Back and Leg, Internal Injuries Sustained

The body of a man, who was struck and killed by what the police called a hit and run driver on West O'Reilly street, early Monday evening, was identified this morning as that of Luther B. Wolven, 68, a retired member of the Philadelphia, Pa., police force, who made his home with his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Stewart, of 56 Hoffman street.

Today the police and the coroner are continuing an extensive investigation in an effort to round up the driver of the automobile which is believed to have struck and killed Mr. Wolven.

The identification of the body was made by Peter Letus, who lives at 176 Wilbur avenue, near the intersection of West O'Reilly street, according to Coroner Ernest A. Kelly and Chief of Police Charles Phinney.

It is believed by the authorities that Mr. Wolven was walking over West O'Reilly street, during the heavy rainstorm, on his way to the Letus home, when he was struck by a passing automobile, whose driver failed to halt.

The body was found by John North of 259 West O'Reilly street, and was lying in the wet leaves off the highway, near the West O'Reilly street entrance to Wittwyck cemetery. Mr. North, according to the police report, notified Frank Oulton of 149 West O'Reilly street of the finding of the body, and Mr. Oulton immediately called police headquarters.

Officers Walter Fitzgerald and William Messing in one of the police radio cars drove to the scene, and the police called Dr. Chester B. Van Gaasbeck and Coroner Ernest A. Kelly.

Autopsy It Taken

The coroner ordered the body removed to the morgue in the Kingston Hospital where Dr. Van Gaasbeek and Dr. J. S. Taylor of the city laboratory, performed an autopsy. Later the body was removed to the coroner's parlors on West Union street.

Coroner Kelly said that it was apparent that the man had been instantly killed when struck, and that he had been dead about two hours before his crumpled body was found alongside the highway.

The autopsy showed that Wolven had suffered a fractured skull, a broken back, one fractured leg, and internal injuries.

When the body was found there was a deep gash in the forehead, and from the condition of the body when found the police were of the opinion that the man had been struck and killed by a hit and run driver.

A search of the clothing showed no means of identification, although a handerchief was found in a pocket of the clothing with the name "F. Wadnola" written in ink on one corner, while the old tan cap the man wore bore the label "Sam Bernstein," local clothier.

The only articles found in the pockets, said Coroner Kelly, were a pocket knife and a lead pencil. No money was found on the body.

Chief of Police Charles Phinney learned this morning that Mrs. Stewart had been making inquires regarding her brother, who had left the house last night early, and had not returned home. Mrs. Stewart said that her brother was accustomed to visited the Letus home.

Officer Wesley Cramer was instructed to call at the Letus home this morning, and have Mr. Letus go with him to the morgue to identify the body, if possible.

This morning a number of people called at the morgue on West Union street, but none of them was able to identify the body. Last night the police got in touch with members of the Wadnola family living in the city and vicinity, but none was reported missing from home.

Mr. Wolven was born in High Woods, town of Saugerties, and had been retired from the Philadelphia police department since 1931. Since then he had made his home with his sister on Hoffman street.

Funeral services will be held from the sister's home on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with burial in Woodstock.

Berlin, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Nuernberg war crimes trial was made the top-ranking subject in all Berlin schools today, as teachers sought to impress the former "Hitler's children" with Germany's war guilt and Allied justice.

Score of Hitler's Henchmen Go On Trial; Full Indictment Read

Oddly-Garbed Gang Hears Recital of Plunder and Horror Charges at Nuernberg; Goering Present

Nuernberg, Nov. 20 (AP)—A score of glum, oddly-garbed henchmen of Adolf Hitler went on trial for their lives today before the international war crimes tribunal and heard the reading of the lengthy indictment against them—a recital of plunder and horror.

The tribunal recessed for luncheon at 12:33 p. m. (6:33 a. m., E.S.T.) with the reading of the indictment still unfinished.

Rudolf Hess, an almost impish grin playing about his sunken mouth, was lined up in the dock with the Nazi defendants—20 in all. The 21st, Martin Bormann, Hitler's deputy, is being tried in absentia.

What disposition the tribunal would make of the reports of alienists on Hess' mental condition had yet to be announced, but the former Hitler deputy seemed at moments almost frivolous as the proceedings got under way.

After the recess, British Lord Justice Geoffrey Lawrence, presiding, announced the trial would continue without the presence of Ernst Kaltenbrunner, former Nazi security police chief, who has suffered a cranial hemorrhage.

The black gowned defense attorneys listened intently to every word that was spoken, but their clients, as strangely garbed as a cast of beggars in an opera, exhibited varying emotions.

From the paunchy Prima Donna of Nazism, Hermann Goering himself, to the quiet, relatively obscure propaganda ministry's handyman, Hans Fritzsche, the defendants listened with varying emotions as lurid deed after lurid deed of the Third Reich was reconstructed in English prose.

There were no legal furbelows at the start of the historic case in the small, oak-panelled courtroom whose windows overlook the one-time shrine city of Nazidom.

Lord Geoffrey Lawrence, British judge who is presiding, told the defendants Britain, the United States, the Soviet Union and France had been entrusted with the punishment of war criminals, adding: "This trial which is about to begin is unique in the history of jurisprudence and in importance to people all over the world.

Sidney S. Alderman, assistant to Chief U. S. Prosecutor Justice Robert H. Jackson, opened the proceedings by reading a condensed version of the indictment. His voice trembled with nervousness.

The defendants stared glumly during the lengthy reading of the indictment. Hess, Ribbentrop, Keitel, and Rosenberg listened without using the translators' earphones provided for each man on trial.

Goering, his fat countenance exhibiting bored composure, soon removed his headphones. Grand Admiral Erich Raedar and Walther Funk, former Reichsbank president, continued to use the American translating device.

Goering nodded non-committally when Prosecutor Alderman referred to his overriding control of German economy in preparation for armed aggression after 1936.

The prosecution tables were crowded. Justice Jackson sat at the head of the United States delegation. Sir David Maxwellfyfe headed Britain's delegation while Col. Yuri Pokrovsky and Charles DuBost were sitting as temporary chief prosecutors for Russia and France.

At Alderman's mention of anti-Jewish fulminations during the pre-war period by Alfred Rosenberg, that defendant hurriedly replaced his earphones. Julius Streich, No. 1 Nazi Jew-baiter, sat

Auto Workers Wait For General Motors Reply to Proposal

Corporation Is Given 24 Hours to Reply to Settlement Plan of Union

Detroit, Nov. 20 (AP)—The automobile industry—from the unskilled workers right through the front offices—today anxiously awaited General Motor's reply to a union proposal for submission of the tense wage dispute to arbitration.

Delegates to the General Motors Council of the C.I.O. United Auto Workers Union approved the offer late yesterday and gave the big corporation 24 hours to make its decision.

Interest centered largely around these questions:

Would General Motors accept the arbitration proposal by the 4 p. m. (E.S.T.) deadline set by the union, thus opening the way for possible settlement by the same method of disputes involving other automotive companies, which, like G.M., are facing 30 per cent wage increase demands?

Would it reject the offer, thus opening the way for possible strike action by the delegates and the union's six-man strategy committee empowered by the International U.A.W.-C.I.O. to act as it sees fit?

Would the corporation, as intimated by President C. E. Wilson, ask for more time to study the proposal and would the union be willing to grant such an extension?

Anxiety was heightened by the fact that the G.M. Council, representing more than 300,000 workers throughout the nation, was scheduled to adjourn one hour after the deadline.

Whether rejection of the proposal would prompt the delegates to recommend immediate strike action remained to be seen, but one informed union spokesman said he believed it would.

Not an Ultimatum

U.A.W.-C.I.O. President R. J. Thomas described the offer as "not an ultimatum" but said it was made as "a last resort" to peaceful settlement.

The proposal provides for the names of a three-man board of arbitration, one member to be chosen by each party and the third by the other two. The board would have access to any company or union records deemed necessary, and its decisions would be binding on both parties.

Any wage increases granted by the board could not be used by General Motors as a basis for seeking car price increases and the board would be empowered to make recommendations for reductions in prices of G.M. products if it so desired.

In a letter to Wilson accompanying the proposal Walter P. Reuther, U.A.W.-C.I.O. vice president, said, "we prefer the conference table and the hearing room

Knox Predicted Surprise Attack At Pearl Harbor

Prediction Was Made Ten Months Before Attack; Six Hazards Which He Envisaged

By JACK BELL

Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—The late Navy Secretary Frank Knox predicted on January 24, 1941 that if war with Japan occurred, hostilities might begin with a surprise attack upon the Pacific Fleet or the naval base at Pearl Harbor.

His prediction was made in a letter to Henry L. Stimson, then secretary of war, and was disclosed in an exchange of correspondence made public today by the Congressional Pearl Harbor Investigating Committee.

The Knox letter, dated more than 10 months prior to the Japanese strike at the base, said that "if war eventuates with Japan, it is believed easily possible that hostilities would be initiated by a surprise attack upon the fleet or the naval base at Pearl Harbor."

"In my opinion," Knox wrote, "the inherent possibilities of a major disaster to the fleet or naval base warrant taking every step, as rapidly as can be done, that will increase the joint readiness of the Army and Navy to withstand a raid of the character mentioned above."

Knox envisaged six hazards which he listed in the following order of importance:

Air bombing attack, air torpedo plane attack, sabotage, submarine attack, mining and bombardment by gunfire.

"Defense against all but the first two of these dangers appears to have been provided for satisfactorily," he wrote, adding that he considered the solution of the two types of aerial attack of "primary importance."

Stimson replied in a letter dated February 7, 1941 concurring as to the importance of the matter and "the urgency of our making every possible preparation to meet such a hostile effort."

The Navy secretary told Stimson any such Japanese attacks probably would be launched from a striking force of carriers and supporting vessels, with the probable maximum enemy effort put at 12 aircraft squadrons, and the minimum at two.

"Both types of air attack are possible," he said. "They may be carried out successively, simultaneously, or in combination with any of the other operations enumerated."

But Republican members of the committee said they want to hear more from Richardson, recalled to the stand today, before they form any opinion.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) noted in an interview the belief that the critical period of American relations with Japan came after Richardson's 1940 visit to the White House.

"The critical months were in 1941," Ferguson said. "We began exchanging notes with Japan about April of that year. I want to hear all of the story of our relations before I decide what President Roosevelt's attitude was."

Senator Brewster (R-Me) said his attention was caught by the phrase in which Richardson quoted Mr. Roosevelt as saying that the Japanese "sooner or later * * * would make a mistake and we would enter the war."

The significant thing, Brewster told a reporter, was Richardson's statement that he had told Mr. Roosevelt that the Japanese would be more likely to feel that the United States meant business if a train of supply vessels were established and the fleet return from Hawaii to the west coast where it could be supplied with ammunition and tripped for operations.

Richardson said Mr. Roosevelt told him the fleet was being kept based at Pearl Harbor "in order to exercise a restraining influence on the actions of Japan."

The admiral further quoted the then President:

"Despite what you believe, I know that the presence of the fleet in the Hawaiian areas has had and is now having a restraining influence on the action of Japan."

Didn't Believe It

Richardson said he replied:

"Mr. President I still do not believe it and I know that our fleet is disadvantageously disposed for preparing for or initiating war operations."

To this the admiral said Mr. Roosevelt replied:

"I can be convinced of the desirability of returning the battleships to the west coast if I can be given a good statement which will convince the American people and the Japanese government that in bringing the battleships to the American Legion Fetes Eisenhower

General Receives Legion's Distinguished Service Medal

Chicago, Nov. 20 (AP)—General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower set the American Legion convention delegates off in a cheering demonstration today when he arrived to receive the Legion's Distinguished Service Medal from National Commander Edward N. Scheiberling.

The general rode through the loop and upon being escorted to the platform by Scheiberling the Chicago Coliseum, practically filled for the first time during the meeting, echoed to a racket reminiscent of prewar Legion gatherings.

Commander Scheiberling announced that Mrs. Eisenhower, ill in Boone, Ia., was improving, bringing out another great cheer.

In presenting the Distinguished Service Medal Commander Scheiberling told General Eisenhower that "no man ever merited this distinction more than you have."

Responding, General Eisenhower said:

"If my three and a half years commanding on foreign soil has done anything for me it is to intensify the undying love that I and they, (his men) hold for this country," he said.

"I like to think you are using me as a medium to honor 3,000,000 American soldiers who did their best for you and America in Europe."

Emotion virtually overcame the general when he referred to his wife and the fact she was improving "If she hadn't been I couldn't have come," he said, simply. He brushed away a tear with his hand.

General Eisenhower, taking a place on the platform after the medal presentation, earlier in the day in a news conference strongly favored the merger of the Army and Navy Departments.

Grows Out of Navy

Sampson, N. Y., Nov. 20 (AP)—Donald (Shorty) Holler grew out of the Navy. Holler, 18-year-old seaman second class from Jeanette, Pa., grew almost four inches in eight months to become 6 feet, 6½ inches tall, or 2½ inches over the maximum for Navy men, officials of Sampson Naval Center said today. As a result, Holler has been released.

Still Flying

Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Army announced today that a B-29, winging its way eastward from Guam, has set a non-stop distance record—and is still flying. The B-29 passed over La Crosse, Wis., at 9:30 a. m. E.S.T. This is 7,368 miles from Guam, the Army Air Forces said. The Superfortress had broken the record at that point.

Ahavath Israel Ball Looks Like Sellout Wednesday

'Scat' Davis, All-Star Show Are Featured on Entertainment Bill; Committees

All arrangements have been completed for the ninth annual Thanksgiving Eve Ball of Congregation Ahavath Israel which is expected to draw a capacity attendance when it is held in the Kingston Municipal Auditorium, Wednesday night.

Committees in charge of the various phases of the event have been working diligently on the affair, especially Herman G. Rafalowsky, who, as in past years, is in charge of music and entertainment.

Chairman Rafalowsky anticipates that Johnny "Scat" Davis' band and the all-star show, featuring celebrities of stage, screen and radio, will top any entertainment bill ever offered by Ahavath Israel.

"We're sparing no expense," he said, "and it is a certainty that all who attend the ball will hear the best obtainable in music and enjoy the star-studded show. This Thanksgiving Eve Ahavath Israel is going all out in an effort to surpass any program ever presented in the auditorium. We're after a record, and I think we'll make it."

Ticket sales to date have been brisk, according to Reuben Leventhal and Moe Schwartz, chairmen of the patron and general admission ticket committee respectively. Indications are that the affair will be a complete sellout.

Iranian Troops Told to Return

Tehran, Nov. 20 (AP)—Iranian troops dispatched to Azarbaijan province to quell Separatist disturbances there were halted at Kazvin today by Russian authorities and ordered to return to Tehran, the Iranian government said.

Four battalions of troops and gendarmes had been moving slowly northward from Tehran, apparently with the tacit consent of the Russian army commander, to quell the outbreak in which seven already have been reported killed.

Kazvin is about 100 miles northeast of Tehran and approximately one-third of the distance between the Iranian capital and Tabriz, Azerbaijan's largest city.

Chinese Reds Drive Upon Changchun

Four Thousand Reds Enter Capital; Soviets Give Conditions

By Spencer Moosa

Chungking, Nov. 20 (AP)—Chinese Communist troops were reported invading Manchuria's capital in force today in a race with rival Nationalist soldiers, already 35 miles inside the vital industrial territory after a breakthrough in the south.

The China Times declared that 4,000 Communist troops had entered the capital of Changchun, but failed to say whether Russian occupation forces still were in the city.

The Times also asserted without confirmation elsewhere that new conferences between China and Russia on the tense Manchurian situation would begin soon, either in Moscow or Chungking.

Unofficial reports in Chungking said the Russians had laid down 20 conditions which the Nationalists must meet before being allowed to fly troops into Manchuria, making an overland drive necessary.

Chungking newspapers asserted this drive already was well under way with Nationalist troops racing 23 miles almost unopposed beyond positions, a dozen miles inside Manchuria to within 190 miles of the great industrial city of Mukden.

With these well-equipped, American-trained troops apparently on the loose after having broken through the Chinese Communist line along the great wall, the Communist press leveled new charges at the United States.

China Is 'Converted'

The United States is converting China into "an American colony," the Communist Daily News charged.

The activities of the American forces have enraged all patriotic Chinese, the newspaper asserted. It compared it with the "imperialism" of the British in India, French in Indo-China and the Dutch in the Netherlands East Indies.

Noticeably, the criticism was issued swiftly after the other Chungking papers had reported the overnight Nationalist advance along the Tientsin-Mukden railroad.

The Nationalists occupied the railroad town of Suichung, 35 miles northeast of Shanhaikwan, where they had sprung the Communist defenses at the anchor of

Baron Honjo Kills Self; Ringleader In Manchurian War

Suicide Comes Less Than 24 Hours After His Arrest Is Ordered by MacArthur

By RUSSELL BRINES

Tokyo, Nov. 20 (AP)—Baron Gen. Shigeru Honjo, accused war criminal and reputed ringleader in the conquest of Manchuria, committed hara-kiri today less than 24 hours after he was ordered arrested.

The baron was lying on his right side in a pool of blood in his office at the former Japanese war college when Allied reporters and photographers arrived.

Blood still oozed from the body and the hilt of his ceremonial sword was thrust up from the sheet which partly covered the body. A small cup containing tea dregs was beside the body.

The old-line officer performed the Japanese hara-kiri ritual by slashing his stomach cross wise, then cutting his throat.

But instead of the ritualistic kimono, Honjo wore his army uniform. His upthrust boots were highly polished.

Honjo, one of 11 war leaders of the past imperialistic decade ordered imprisoned yesterday, died shortly after his secretary found his slashed body on his office floor.

"I cannot endure as a soldier of our country to appear before a court of Allied powers," Honjo said in a letter written shortly before he killed himself.

"I find no way of apologizing to His Majesty and the people for bringing my nation to such a miserable state of affairs.

"It grieves my heart when I think of the surviving families of our men who died on battlefields.

"I therefore have decided to seek death."

The letter, addressed to his secretary, Kawamura, said it was Honjo's desire that his eldest son,

Assembly of Cars Becomes Difficult as Parts Run Out

Detroit, Nov. 20 (AP)—The release of price ceilings for most of the 1946 model automobiles may bring another deluge of orders to the merchandising division of the industry, but it will not immediately speed up volume deliveries.

Against an accumulated demand for upward of 12,000,000 units, the industry in a little more than three and one-half months has assembled approximately 45,000 units, with the going becoming more difficult as the supply of parts and sub-assemblies runs out in many factories.

Of the total assemblies to date Ford has made about 16,000 and Chevrolet close to 15,000. Oldsmobile and Pontiac also are reported to be getting fair volume, the former having assembled about 3,000 and the latter 4,000.

Elsewhere in the industry, however, shortages due to work stoppages in supplier plants have impeded the production programs and output is far behind schedule. Buick which had produced approximately 2,500 of its 1946 types closed down its plant at Flint last Tuesday because of a shortage of frames.

Chrysler's Corporation's Plymouth division has produced some new units, but with the other Chrysler Companies is reported held back by shortages. Studebaker was having difficulty getting under way because of supplier tie-ups and Packard had to halt a newly opened assembly line because of a shortage of body parts.

Hudson has turned out about 2,500 cars and Nash expects to have at lease a sample model in the hands of each of its 1,300 dealers this week. Kaiser-Fraser plans to introduce its new cars in January.

The over-all production volume is merely a trickle compared to what the industry had hoped for at this time. Originally projected was the production of 500,000 units before December 31. Total output probably will not reach 240,000 and unless the tie-ups in glass and grey iron production is ended industry-wide shutdowns may be expected.

The industry manufacturing program was pointed toward a production level of approximately 500,000 cars a month by next June or July. With the threat of strikes hanging over each of the industry's "Big Three" of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, attainment of that volume by midsummer appears increasingly uncertain at this time.

Aaron GrayChosen Federation Head At MeetingMonday

Aaron Gray of the Glenford Reformed Church was appointed president of the Federation of Men's Clubs at a special meeting held at the Y.M.C.A. on Monday evening, November 19. The meeting was called by the vice-president, Harry Marquart for the purpose of deciding on a president to replace Edwin Lacey, who had resigned that office.

Other matters of business were also transacted by the delegates present. No dartball league will be sponsored by the Federation this year, but a round of informal games between the various clubs was encouraged. It was also decided that the clubs should be advised to appoint active delegates to the Federation so that as many clubs as possible could be represented at the Federation meetings, which are held quarterly.

A number of clubs have gone on an inactive status because of wartime conditions, and it was discovered that a few Men's Clubs have already resumed activities. The Federation will do all within its power to help re-establish the clubs which were forced to discontinue activities due to the war, as well as to aid in forming new clubs.

The new president, Aaron Gray, has been active in the Federation as well as in his own Men's Club for a number of years. It is expected that under his guidance the Federation of Men's Clubs will attain the big position in the community which it held in pre-war times.

The next meeting of the Federation of Men's Clubs will be held in January on a date to be determined. Those who attended Monday evening's meeting were: The Rev. W. Wesley Williams, chaplain of the Federation, Aaron Gray, Ralph Stoutenburgh, Harry Marquart, Paul Barnum, Edsil Flowers, Charles Gumaer, Howard Minard and Leslie Garrison.

The meeting was adjourned with a prayer by the Rev. W. Wesley Williams.

Yamashita Trial Tomorrow

Manila, Nov. 20 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, defeated in his latest attempt to escape death as a war criminal, must begin his defense tomorrow. Yamashita appeared composed and once smiled broadly today although his pleas for a "not guilty" verdict and for a delay in presentation of his defense both were denied by the U. S. military commission trying him.

Eisenhower Favors Taking G.I. Wives To European Areas

Buone, Ia., Nov. 20 (AP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower, who spent most of two days at the hospital bedside of his wife, recovering from bronchial pneumonia, says he favors taking the wives of occupation troops to Europe "after we have gotten down to occupation forces."

General Eisenhower, in a press conference prior to leaving for the American Legion Convention in Chicago and after being advised by physicians that his wife was "on the road to recovery," said his policy "will give the wife of the lowliest GI the same right as any officer's wife, or my wife, for instance."

The general explained the great problem of getting military governments established in Germany and of getting large numbers of troops home made it difficult to estimate when such a policy might be put into effect.

General Eisenhower, who is to speak at the Legion's Convention tonight, is scheduled to leave Washington Friday by plane on his return trip to Germany.

the great wall and moved into Manchuria.

Occupation of Sulchung brought the Nationalists to within 65 miles of Chinhsien, important railroad junction 125 miles southwest of Mukden.

A Communist spokesman here asserted that the Nationalist approach to Chinhsien, where the railroad branches out in three directions into interior Manchuria, would see the "first big battle" for control of Manchuria.

Central government leaders were worried by reports the Communist forces had occupied practically all air fields which had been held by the Russians in southern Manchuria.

The Communists predicted the Russians would evacuate Changchun itself by December 1 and set that date for the decisive break in the battlef or power in the north.

The northernmost Nationalist position at Sulchung is roughly 400 miles southwest of Changchun. If the Communist date for the Soviet evacuation is correct, Chiang's soldiers will have to average nearly 40 miles a day to be on hand to step in ahead of the Communists.

Clinton Avenue Methodists Close 90th Anniversary

Clinton Avenue Methodist Church brought its 90th anniversary celebration to a close Sunday with two largely attended services. In the morning the anniversary and thanksgiving sermon was preached by the Rev. Arthur G. Carroll, D. D., district superintendent of the Kingston district of Methodist churches. The theme of Dr. Carroll's message was the common, unknown man and woman of the church, those who labor on steadily from year to year, without whose sacrifice and support there could be no church.

At the evening and final service a former pastor of the church, the Rev. Howard D. McGrath, D. D., district superintendent of the Poughkeepsie district of Methodist churches, spoke on the subject, "Thank God for the Cross." Dr. McGrath, as well as other ministers heard earlier in the week, brought out the fact that many leading thinkers and educators today who have not heretofore been considered Christian, are now stating publicly that they feel the only hope for a peaceful world lies in a return by both individuals and nations to the principles and teachings of the Christ.

The committee, in planning for this anniversary week, kept in mind that the Methodist Church is this year in the third phase of its great Crusade for Christ—the year of Evangelism; accordingly all the events of the week were planned in harmony with this theme.

The first service of the celebration was on Sunday morning, November 11, when in keeping with Armistice Day, the pastor, the Rev. William R. Peckham brought a message of welcome to the returning service men and women of the church. On that evening, the Rev. W. Wesley Williams, pastor of St. James church, was the preacher. Tuesday evening the various organizations attended in groups, listening to a message brought by the Rev. John Pemberton, Jr., pastor of Washington Street Methodist Church of Poughkeepsie. On Thursday evening, Community Night, the forceful and dynamic the Rev. Thomas Lamont, pastor of Old Bergen Reformed Church, Jersey City, brought the sermon. All of these fine sermons stressed the theme of evangelism.

Music for all the services was by the three choirs of the church; soloists were Mrs. B. Kenneth Chatham, Vernon S. Miller and Oliver Shultis; presiding at the organ was Mrs. Raymond Ingersoll.

Present at both the first and final services were the two oldest members of the church, Mrs. Lillian Britt and Miss Mary Van Gaasbeck. Each has been a member of Clinton Avenue Church for 73 years.

Having completed 90 years of service in this community, Clinton Avenue now looks ahead to its next milestone, a full century, and is starting toward this goal with a finely-equipped church building entirely free from debt and a host of loyal, faithful members, led by their ardent, forceful pastor, the Rev. William R. Peckham.

Testimony Continued In Negligence Action

Testimony was continued today in the negligence action brought by Sophie Henderson against Edmund Katzenberger, an action to recover damages as a result of injuries which plaintiff suffered on May 8, 1943, at the corner of Albany avenue and Pearl street in a motor car accident. Plaintiff alleges a fractured skull and claims she still suffers from the injuries received.

The action is unusual in that the defendant admits liability but denies the extent of the injuries which plaintiff claims. By the admission of liability the only question which the jury will need settle is the amount to be awarded. Cashin and Ewig appear for plaintiff and Andrew J. Cook for defendant.

MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved mother, Mrs. Lillian D. Rorrick, who passed away eight years ago today, November 20, 1937.

Peaceful be thy rest dear mother,
It is sweet to breathe thy name,
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.
The moon and stars are shining,
On the lone and silent grave,
Beneath lies one we always loved,
But whom we could not save.
There are times when we still linger,
At the spot where you are laid,
When we come and scatter flowers,
On the grave that Christ has made.

Her Children.

First Presbyterian Men's Club Meets On Reorganization

A meeting for reorganization of the Men's Club of the First Presbyterian Church, which has been dormant for the past three years, was held Friday night, with 32 men of the church present.

With 35 of its members serving with the armed forces no meeting of the club has been held in three years. Three men who have been discharged from service—Sherrill Keyser, Lester Dennis and Burton Streeter — attended the meeting Friday night.

John Weiss was elected temporary chairman and Edsil P. Flowers temporary secretary of the meeting, which decided to take up the work of the club where it had been left off three years ago.

Harold Smith, Foster Winfield and C. A. Baltz were a committee to propose men for new officers, to be elected at a meeting to be held Thursday night, December 13. It also was decided to hold regular meetings on the second Thursday of each month.

Frederick Stang, Willard Thomas and Walter Caunitz were named as a program committee an dthey are expected to produce something unique for the meeting on December 13.

Some good suggestions were made as to what should be the aims of the club and the outlook is good for an active and vigorous organization. Men who were not present for this first meeting are asked to reserve the night of December 13 and help make that meeting an interesting one.

Kingston Area Shows Both Drop and Gains

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 20 (AP)—Industrial employment in New York dropped only slightly in October, and payrolls went up, Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi reported today.

Gains in civilian goods industries helped offset losses in war plants, Corsi said, so that total manufacturing employment declined only 0.5 per cent, while payrolls increased 0.3 per cent.

These figures compare with September declines of 9.1 per cent in employment and 7.2 per cent in payrolls. Average weekly earnings advanced 20 cents to $45.89 in October.

The October employment picture in the Kingston-Newburgh, Poughkeepsie area showed an employment drop of 2.6 per cent, and a payroll decrease of 4.9 per cent, reflected circumstances in two factories. In others, employment and payrolls scored advances.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

"Its Like This, Pop"

Louisville, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Maxwell Field, Ala., separation base's chief counselor, a lieutenant, squirmed a little when a lieutenant-colonel dropped down in a chair across the deck to receive parting reconversion advice.

Lt. Col. Howard M. Nelson was being honorably discharged.

The Army counselor giving him "discharge" advice was Lt. Howard E. Nelson—his son.

Jailbirds

Philadelphia, Nov. 20 (AP)—Four turkeys, discovered jay-walking in south Philadelphia, are in a police cell today.

Police Officer Joseph Cicolese, who found the birds dodging traffic, said they will remain in jail until claimed, "which should be before Thanksgiving."

Premonition

Grants Pass, Ore., Nov. 20 (AP)—A faint crackling noise caused Agile, 85-year-old H. D. Tatman to leap from his chair.

Seconds later a tree 18 inches in diameter crashed through the roof of his house.

The Winner

Raytown, Mo., Nov. 20 (AP)—R. H. Kenagy, Jr., had a birthday this week, his 96th, and a good laugh on three of his sons who are in the insurance business.

The mortality tables which his sons use to sell policies run only to 95. At that age, says the insurance statistics, only three out of every 100,000 persons are supposed to be alive. And at 96 none is alive statistically and the company pays off to policy holders reaching that age.

Thus Kenagy is eligible to collect on a $1,000 insurance policy which he took out in 1896.

Fish Goes Fishing

Port Isable, Tex., Nov. 20 (AP)—William Bledsoe, 74, is nursing four broken ribs, the result of an encounter with a six foot tarpon.

Bledsoe was sitting in his skiff fishing when something hit him so hard it knocked him out of the boat. When he climbed back in he found a 125 pound tarpon flopping around.

Coast Guardesmen who saw the incident and went to Bledsoe's assistance verified the fact the fish had not been hooked. It was believed it struck at the reflection in the water of the outboard motor.

Little Joey Jumps

Chicago, Nov. 20 (AP)—Joey, the baby kangaroo at the Brookfield Zoo whose mother gave him the brush-off when he wanted to sleep in her pouch where all kangaroo mothers carry their young, is going to leave mama.

Director Robert Bean sensing a mother-son feud a week ago when Joey, six months old, was left out in the cold by his mother, put him on the market.

The baby kangaroo is going to be sent to the Central Park Zoo in New York city.

JAMES SISCO

James J. Sisco, technician fifth grade, Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, has been awarded a citation by the commanding general, Eighth Army, for heroism near Sansapor, Dutch New Guinea, on December 2, 1944. The order was issued on September 25, 1945. His mother, Mrs. Hary Sisco, resides at R.D. 1, Box 217, Kingston. The citation reads that, "at about 1830 on this date, as darkness was approaching, a DUKW sank in the rough sea off the coast of Sansapor. The men who were in the amphibian vehicle were thrown into the water and were in danger of drowning. Technician Fifth Grade Sisco, who was on an LCM close by, jumped into the ocean, saved one man who was nearly drowned and aided in the rescue of several other men by placing life preservers in their hands. Technician Fifth Grade Sisco's complete disregard of personal safety reflects great credit on himself and the military service."

YES MAN

My name is Kenneth Carter. I'm the "Yes" man at Personal Finance Co....that is—I'm the man who likes to say "Yes" to requests for Personal loans.

You see—I'm the manager of our office—the man who's responsible for building up our business. The more times I say "Yes" to requests for loans — the more business we do. And since making Personal Loans of $25 to $300 or more is our ONLY business — that's mighty important to me.

Therefore, if you need extra cash at any time—whether a little for a short time or a lot for a long time—you can depend on my doing my best to say "yes" to you.

Next time you can use a loan give me a chance to say "Yes"—won't you? I'll consider it a favor. SEE ME at PERSONAL FINANCE CO., 2nd Floor, 319 Wall Street, or Phone me at Kingston 3470.

ELKS CONTINUE PROGRAM

Kingston Lodge of Elks is participating in activities for service men at home and abroad. Grand Exalted Ruler W. H. Kepner in outlining the national program declares now that the excitement has been replaced by routine military duties, it is more essential than ever that the folks on the home front do everything possible to sustain the morale of our armed forces.

We believe Mr. Kepner makes a very good point here. The patriotic pitch reached through bond rallies, headlines of victory and tales of heroism is subsiding and people may begin to forget that there ever was a war and the boys and girls who helped win the war.

The war is not over for the wounded veteran lying helpless in his hospital bed, for many of his ward mates it will never be over; it's not over for boys on occupation duty in Germany and Japan; it is not over for boys stuck in camps in this country far away from home; it's not over for veterans returning to civilian life with all the problems of readjustment.

The Elks are to be congratulated in continuing their efforts to bolster the morale of our service men and women.

You can't blame returning heroes for getting sore. First they have to fight for peace, and then they have to fight for a house to live in.

THANKSGIVING FOR VICTORY!

The Victory Loan Drive should rightfully be termed the "Thanksgiving Loan Drive." Not only because Thanksgiving Day comes during the period of the drive, but to give the campaign a real impetus by developing an awareness and appreciation of just what it means and represents.

Thanksgiving for Victory—Thanksgiving for the fact that we can realize now just what Victory will mean in so many different ways—Thanksgiving that we have supported seven War Loan Drives, and have generously oversubscribed each one.

Our thanks can best be expressed by going all out to put every idle nickel into this drive and demonstrate to the rest of the world our Thanksgiving for all the events of the past four years that brought us this victory.

This is the last—Give it all you have and more. If you have done your "share" in preceding war loans—do more than your share this time. Let's go overboard for the last one. More than you can afford. Let's wind up this drive in a blaze of glory—For yourselves—For everybody—For our own satisfaction in years to come—For Thanksgiving.

War is a crazy business, and yet humane in a way. First you lick your enemies, then you feed 'em.

CANADA'S NEW FLAG

People who think they know flags will soon have a new chance to show their knowledge. Canada is planning to have a national flag. A resolution, indorsed by Premier W. L. Mackenzie King, has been introduced into the Canadian Parliament declaring this an expedient step to take. Thus a project which goes back to 1867 seems to be nearing the action stage.

Whether this will be a mere variation on the Union Jack, or be entirely unlike the British flag, is yet to be determined. Both ideas have their followers. But Americans would make a mistake if they assumed that the proposed step indicates any weakening in allegiance to Great Britain. It shows a heightening of Canadian national feeling, but that feeling is still interwoven with pride in membership in the British Commonwealth of Nations.

WHO'S BOSS NOW?

The railroad passenger station today is the scene of demonstrative family reunions. Most returning service men keep their families informed of their expected arrival. At the steps of the railroad car the embraces show more than words can tell about the emotional "welcome home." To lift the strain of excitement some of the veterans try to strike a note of humor. One such attempt at joking was a shout over the wife's shoulder to the couple's four-year-old: "Look here, son, from now on I'm boss around the house."

What a glorious contrast with the same scene, months, maybe years back, when the parting promise from the wife was: "I'll run the show for you until you get back."

It seems now that future wars will be won by the scientists.

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

U.N.R.R.A.

The purpose of U.N.R.R.A. are laudable; the methods require study and revision. There can be no question but that the charitable American people strongly desire to aid the starving and homeless, particularly the women and children of Europe and Asia. But the hard-headed American people desire that those designated for aid get it, and the only satisfactory means that Americans have for obtaining such information is from American newspaper reporters, on the spot, free to inspect what is done and free to send uncensored reports to American newspapers. As long as that remains impossible, so long is it unwise to send American money, as cash or goods, because there is no evidence that there is no diversion from the needy to those who can take care of themselves and that labels are not taken off packages to indicate that the source of supply is other than it actually is.

Furthermore, the American contribution to U.N.R.R.A., running not far from 70 per cent of the total, is out of proportion, considering the obligations of all peoples to aid the needy. As it is, the aid is inadequate and spread out too thin. Mr. Lehman's request for an additional $1,350,000,000 is based upon the need for fuller relief. Such a country as China, he says, has only had 32,000 tons of supplies and he has a great program for China but needs more money. But relief has been going into China from the United States for more than a century in the form of health, educational, Red Cross, and missionary activities. How much can temporary and universal U.N.R.R.A. do more than these permanent efforts have done?

As long as the United States is putting up most of the money for relief, why not establish an American Relief Administration such as we had during and after the last war, selecting the areas in which we want to work and doing an intensive job in them? There is not enough money or goods in the United States to care for all the needy of all the world. The Russians, for instance, might take care of their own, of the Ukraine and White Russia, to which Mr. Lehman wishes to send $250,000,000, while we might look after Italy and China. Certainly, that would seem to be a more practical way of meeting this problem than by a single administration spreading itself out over all the world and actually doing so little that Mr. Lehman's statement before the House Foreign Affairs Committee reads like an apology for failure. Mr. Hoover, after the last war, needed to apologize to no one—and the problems, while smaller in degree, were identical in kind.

The impediment to effective liquidation of the evils of war is too much involvement in diplomatic trading, designed to load everything on the United States while minimizing any credit that might accrue to the United States for its good nature and charity. The various international agencies cannot get going properly because every country is jealous of America.

U.N.R.R.A. is an excellent example of that. When Congress proposed that no American money shall be expended in areas to which the American press cannot be admitted, Mr. Lehman was among the first to protest against strings being attached to our generosity. Yet, why should it be that any country is anxious to have our money but will not permit us to know what happens to it? Why must we ape the oppressions and despotisms of others? I would offer this suggestion:

Whenever a package originating in America is distributed to any country, as long as the United States contributes more than 50 per cent of U.N.R.R.A.'s funds, an American flag shall be indelibly stamped on the package and these words shall also appear:

"Provided by the generosity of the American people who live in freedom, under a Constitution now more than 158 years old. This Constitution contains this guarantee: 'Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.'"

That might do some real good.

OVERWEIGHT

I have written several times about water and overweight because the majority of overweights do not realize that drinking water or other liquids prevents loss of weight. I have mentioned the fact that heavy weight wrestlers lose 5, 10 and even 15 pounds in a single bout depending upon their amount of excess weight and the length of the bout. Needless to say this water (and weight) is usually back in their tissues within 24 to 48 hours.

Just why overweights increase their fat tissue, and every pound of fat holds 3 pounds of water, may be hard to explain but one physician believes it is just one of Nature's provisions for maintaining life in one who is shipwrecked or otherwise deprived of food. By having food (fat) and water in the tissues, the overweight can live many days without food and water.

The lesson then for overweights is not only to cut down on the fat forming foods (starches and fats), in their reducing diet but to cut down to an even greater extent on liquids of all kinds.

Another point in successful reducing often neglected by overweights is the excess use of table salt. Salt is an excellent food, needed by every cell in the body, and making food appetizing and enjoyable. Thus every individual of normal weight or underweight can safely take table salt. However, salt increases the desire for liquids and as each grain of salt attracts or holds 70 times its own weight of water in the tissues, and fat tissue holds three times its weight of water, it can readily be seen how the drinking of liquids and the use of too much table salt in and on food is bound to increase weight in those who are already overweight.

In an article in the Journal of the American Medical Association on the spa treatment of heart ailments Dr. Carl B. Comisteck, Saratoga Springs, N. Y., states that as it is necessary to get rid of the unnecessary burden of excess weight ample provision is made for simple necessary foods but fluids and table salt are reduced to a minimum.

Overweight and Underweight

It has been well said that weight is one of the clearest methods of knowing one's health. "At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

Walter P. Crane defeated Dr. W. E. E. Little for the office of mayor of Kingston at the November election in 1921, by a majority of 719 votes, while Crane's running mate, Rudolph C. Dittus, was re-elected alderman-at-large, defeating Thomas F. Coughlin by a majority of 1,293 votes.

Mr. Crane first became mayor of the city in May, 1907, when he filled out the unexpired term of Mayor A. Wesley Thompson, who had resigned. Mayor Crane was given the Republican nomination for mayor at the 1907 election in November, and was elected, serving from 1908 through 1909.

City Judge Harry E. Schirick was re-elected at the 1921 election, and the Democrats obtained control of the Common Council electing 8 of 13 members.

The Republican aldermen elected Dr. Harry P. Van Wagenen, Richard Williams, Ralph Mann, Charles H. Buchholtz, and Dr. Henry Behrens, while the Democrats elected J. Philip Beichert, Michael A. Cashman, William J. Keating, William Joy, Peter A. Kullman, Henry C. Macholdt, William B. Martin and Edward J. Ryan.

Turning from politics to transportation it was on October 26, 1921, that Martin Jordan bought of Howard C. Winne the Kingston-New Paltz bus line. The line had been established for some years by Charles Kidd of Rifton, who, earlier in 1921, sold it to Mr. Winne, who was operating the Kingston-Phoenicia bus line.

Mr. Jordan after he had acquired the bus line operated it successively for some years.

A Men's Club was organized at a dinner meeting held in St. James Methodist Church on October 31, 1921, with Attorney Newton H. Fessenden as the first president. The other officers elected were W. F. Dedrick, vice president; Arthur Quimby, treasurer, and Harry Grinton, secretary.

Martin Coyne died on October 23, 1921, aged 85 years. He was a retired railroad man, and for a number of years had held the post of yard master in the Rondout yard of the former Ulster & Delaware railroad.

Chauncey D. Carroll of Abruyn street, died on October 15, 1921, aged 88 years. Mr. Carroll, before he retired, for many years, had been employed by the Singer Sewing Machine Co. as a salesman. Older readers will recall the years when Mr. Carroll was active. In those years the automobiles was practically unknown and Mr. Carroll covered the local territory in a horse and buggy.

Mr. Carroll had been a resident of Kingston for 40 years, and practically all of that time had lived in Ponckhockie. He died of injuries suffered in a fall from a tree.

The steamyacht Edwin B. Gardner, owned by Captain Frank W. Roosa of Wurts street, was burned to the water's edge on October 25, 1921, while berthed in the Rondout creek, opposite Fischer's Hotel on Abeel street.

The yacht was 100 feet long and was licensed to carry 250 passengers. For several seasons she had been used as a sightseeing yacht in New York harbor.

Prior to that she ran regularly on the Rondout-Glasco route, carrying passengers and freight. She also had been operated on the Poughkeepsie-Rondout route.

During the summer months she was often chartered by local organizations for moonlight sails on the Hudson river. I recall many an enjoyable moonlight sail I made on her when I was a youth.

She was one of the many famous small steamyachts that plied the waters of the Hudson river and the Rondout creek in the era before auto buses became popular.

Panama City was founded in 1673 after Old Panama, located six miles east, was destroyed by pirates.

No One Stands to Be Benefited by Forthcoming Economic War

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 20—The pattern of economic war is unfolding before the very eyes of the labor-management conference. The automobile manufacturers are girding for a showdown. The big union of auto workers is preparing to use the strike weapon.

Nobody is going to be benefited by the coming war—least of all the public which needs new motor vehicle transportation for reasons of safety on the roads and to supply the economic needs of a country which has been deprived of new automobiles for three years.

But the auto manufacturers doubtless feel this is the time to have it out with the unions not only because of the wage demands which the employers deem excessive but to compel some degree of responsibility by the unions for the arbitrary acts and unauthorized work stoppages of their members when these are violations of written contracts.

The union leaders, on the other hand, feel that their prestige and power among their own members is at stake and that dues-paying will not continue in as big a flow as before if the leaders fail to get for the workers the same take-home pay that labor received during the long work days and overtime periods of the war era.

Here is a controversy which depends more than anything else for its proper settlement on the self-restraint that both sides can be persuaded to exercise and on the capacity of government either to bring about mediation or some form of fact-finding so as to convince both management and labor of the limits beyond which neither can afford to go and retain the respect of public opinion.

One move made over the week-end by government tends to simplify the issue. Rightly or wrongly, the O.P.A. has at last fixed selling prices for automobiles at somewhere around January 1942 levels, this automatically prevents wage increases from being passed on to the public and means they either cannot be granted at all or else that such wage increases as are granted at all or else that such wage increases as are granted must come out of employer profits.

There is, of course, a bare possibility that the government might take a hand and fix wages as it has prices. It may be politically unwise for the administration to take such a step but it may, on the other hand, prove politically unwise not to do so. For whichever way the situation drifts, if it is not settled and a long strike ensues, President Truman will be blamed for the failure to bring about a settlement.

Most persons may have overlooked or forgotten the fact that the President still has the legal power to fix wages. Those wage stabilization regulations which he revoked just after V-J Day can be put back again overnight by executive order. Indeed, the order says that wages cannot be raised if they involve a dispute as to prices to be charged the public.

So if there is a strike, it will be President Truman's responsibility under the Smith-Connally law or the wage-price law to take action. It would be much better therefore, if the President took charge of the situation at once, appointed a fact-finding body and after due inquiry told the public and the employers and unions just what the facts do show.

The unions may not like it if they are, in effect, ordered to take an increase in basic pay which is less than they now demand. The employers in the auto industry may not like it if they are, in effect, ordered to absorb an increase in workers' pay out of profits. But when collective bargaining breaks down in a vital industry or is impracticable due to government control of wages or prices or both, the public interest demands action by the government itself to prevent serious interruptions in the flow of goods through interstate commerce.

Home Bureau Says Potatoes Should Be Used Plentifully

With the national potato crop the third largest on record, the Ulster County Home Bureau advises New York consumers to use plenty of potatoes now and where possible to store a supply for winter.

If storage facilities are available, it is more economical to buy potatoes in fairly large quantities, according to the Ulster County Home Bureau. In selecting potatoes for storing, do not get those that are immature, a condition which can be recognized by a tan or 'feathered' skin. The tubers should also be clean and free from mechanical injury.

Potatoes keep best when stored where the temperature averages about 36 to 40 degrees Fahrenheit and the humidity is fairly high. The room should be dark or the potatoes covered to prevent "greening." Access to outside air will aid in keeping the humidity high. If the potatoes are clean and sound, they might be kept in a bin or in a pile on the cellar floor, but they should not be kept in the furnace room.

The variety best for storage depends upon the use to be made of potatoes. Varieties, such as Green Mountain, Houma, and Russet Burbank probably are best suited for baking because they are dry, mealy, and break up easily when cooked. Varieties, such as Chippawa, Katahdin, Earlaine, and Pontiaca probably are best for boiling because they hold together well when cooked. On this basis, the Rural, Sebago, Sequoia, and Cobbler varieties are classed as good general purpose potatoes.

In addition to being plentiful and inexpensive, potatoes are also a very nutritious food. One medium sized potato supplies about 10 per cent of the recommended daily allowance of iron and vitamin C plus some calcium and other vitamins and minerals.

Yamashita Puzzled

Manila, Nov. 20 (AP)—Out of all the languages and dialects — at least 10—used as Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita's war crimes trial, the general's ear caught one word which persistently puzzled him. Today he asked surprised defense counsel, "who's this fellow 'Jackson'?" Momentarily stumped themselves, defense attorneys figured out that Yamashita had misunderstood their oft-shouted "objection."

Public Welfare Report Is Given to County Supervisors

November 1, 1944, and 23 were received this year and 48 were readmitted, making a total of 140. During the year 61 were discharged, two absconded, six died and there were 71 in the home on October 31, 1945.

On the county farm during the year there was raised a large quantity of food and produce, much of which was used at the County Home. Included was 50 bushels beans, 1,800 bushels of potatoes, 50 bushels tomatoes, 25 bushels carrots, three bushels egg plant, four bushels lettuce, three bushels of cucumbers, 10 crates strawberries, 15 bushels peas, 60 bushels sweet corn, 600 heads cabbage, 15 bushels onions, 700 bushels oats, 2,000 bushels corn, 150 tons ensilage, 400 bushels wheat, 3,620 dozen eggs and considerable other produce.

His report was received and referred to the Committee on County County Commissioner of Public Welfare. Later a resolution was offered that the amounts for relief be assessed and levied against the towns as contained in the report. Over.

Commissioner Kniffin also made a report on the Children's Division in which was contained a report of the expenditures and activities of the past year. During the year there were 286 children under investigation and care by the Division, an increase of 59 over last year. These children were given either temporary or permanent care and several were placed in foster homes in the county where children are cared for and others were taken to institutions. During the year 24 children were taken from institutions and placed back in their own homes or in foster homes. Mr. Kniffin called attention to the need for additional foster homes. The financial report showed there had been available during the year for care of children who could not be cared for in their own homes the sum of $54,079, which included a balance of $4,005.30, the appropriation of $42,140.28 and other moneys paid in. The expenditures were $59,380.21, making an overdraft of $5,301.21.

The amounts to be charged back to the towns for care of children in boarding homes, Industrial Home, etc., are: Esopus $181.60. Gardiner $2,215.86. Hurley $1,864.-68. Lloyd $4,122.39. Marbletown $1,914.04. Marlborough $1,899.21. New Paltz $4,786.14. Olive $1,624.-57. Plattekill $387.14. Rochester $6,671.66. Rosendale $3,840.27. Saugerties $3,162.38. Shandaken $1,661.81. Shawangunk $1,461.10. Ulster $2,501.13. Wawarsing $7,218.57. Woodstock $2,686.79. County at large $864.49. Later it was moved that these sums be assessed an dlevied against the towns and the county at large. Over.

A report was also made by the Commissioner of Public Welfare on Aid to Dependent Children. This showed total receipts of $42,978.42 and disbursements of $32,883.80. Balance on hand November 1, 1945 $10,094.62. The number of families of dependent children grantees who received assistance during October 1945 was 57 and this included 142 children, the average monthly payment being $21.64.

A report was also made on the Funeral Fund, Old Age Relief. There was balance last year of $2,480.99 and the appropriation was $10,000. Recoveires amounted to $3,695.50, making a total available of $16,176.49 and the disbursements were $12,479.95, leaving a balance of $3,696.54. An appropriation of $10,000 was asked. Referred to Committee on Appropriations.

For Old Age Assistance there was expended during the past year a total of $319,764.39 and a request was made for an appropriation of $110,000 for 1945, the same as in 1944. Receipts during the year were $397,924.69, including a total of $223,184.11 from Federal and State reimbursements. Disbursements were $319,764.39, leaving a balance of $78,988.36 in the fund as of October 31, 1945.

A total of 906 received Old Age Assistance during the year and the average payment was $25.57.

Aid To Blind

The anual report on aid to the blind was also submitted by Mr. Kniffin. Total receipts were $7,216.63 and the direct and indirect assistance amounted to $5,006.59, leaving a balance of $2,210.03 as of November 1, 1945. There were 17 receiving blind assistance in November and the monthly average grant was $24.13. An appropriation of $1,500 was asked. Referred to committee on Appropriations.

A report was also made on a new fund which has just been established by state law. It is the Old Age Assistance Recovery Fund, accounting for moneys recovered from property or estate of those who received assistance. The total recoveries amounted to $36,001.33 which together with a balance of $8,909.31, made a total of $44,910.64. Disbursements were $16,681.39 and the balance as of October 31, 1945 was $28,229.25. This fund is used to reimburse the county, State and Federal funds for moneys paid out in relief and the State and Federal share of the fund is $19,888.68 and the county's share is $8,340.57.

A report was also made on the Non-Settlement Fund, a $50,000 revolving fund which is used for county and town home relief and hospitalization, etc., and which is reimbursed by the towns or county annually to keep it at the $50,000 mark. Total in the fund was $52,-205.63 and disbursements were $26,742.27, leaving a balance of $25,463.36. There is due the fund from towns as their share of advances during the year the following sums which will be assessed and levied: Denning $186.02. Esopus $447.77. Gardiner $162.45. Hardenbergt $58.80. Hurley $523.-88. Kingston $59.85. Lloyd $1,437.92. Marlborough $3,197.74. New Paltz $843.80. Olive $908.27. Plattekill $775.31. Rochester $680.02. Rosendale $235.15. Saugerties $3,213.61. Shandaken $754.53. Shawangunk. $463.71. Ulster $871.48. Wawarsing $2,793.-94. Woodstock $738.65. County at large $1,092.64. Some towns have already paid their share to the fund and those amounts will not be levied.

A request was made by the County Commissioner of Public Welfare for the following appropriations for the ensuing year for the various funds as follows:

Maintenance of inmates of county home $16,000. County home repairs $2,000. Old Age Assistance $110,000. Funeral Fund, Old Age Relief $10,000. Dependent Children $20,000. Blind $1,500. Administrative $32,000. Referred to Committee on Appropriations.

A report was made by the Public Health Nursing Committee on the Ulster County Nursing Service for the year. During the year the committee held six meetings. The report stated there were eight nurses receiving state aid during the year. During the year four of the public health nurses resigned and four were still working at the end of the year with one state nurse. It was stated that those who had left would be replaced as quickly as possible. There were 10,289 homes visited during the year by the nurses. Whooping cough clinics were held for the first time this year and the nurses gave valuable aid in school work. They were in attendance at 47 T-B clinics and 971 homes were visited where tuberculosis patients had been or where contacts may have been made. The financial report showed a balance of $8,-961.88 at the beginning of the past year and the appropriation was $13,000. Available was $29,787.42, including refunds from the state. The expenditures were $16,420.36. Balance October 31, 1945, $13,367.-06. The budget proposed was $17,160 for salaries and $5,400 for travel expenses, etc., for nine nurses at $600 each, making a total budget of $23,140. Referred to committee of appropriations.

A resolution was offered and adopted fixing the salaries of the public health nurses for 1946 at: Grade A, three years or more of service $2,100. Grade B, two years service $2,000. Grade C, one year $1,900 and probation or provisional nurses $1,800. The resolution called for employment of nine nurses in 1946.

It was estimated that the balance in the Nursing Fund on January 1, 1946 would be $11,140. Deducting this from the budget of $23,140, it will be necessary to raise by assessment and levy the sum of $12,000 for 1946. It was so moved. Over.

A contract was entered into with the City of Kingston Laboratory for county work at the rate of $1,000 per month. This is the same contract as adopted and approved in the past. Half of this sum is reimbursed by the state to the county.

Resolutions of the previous session were called up and adopted.

The committee on Equalization meets Wednesday at 3:30 o'clock.

The Board adjourned until 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening.

DUCKS RAID CROP

A flock of wild ducks, apparently starving, ruined a 20-acre crop of peas near Wellington, New Zealand, while a ranger watched, unable to stop them in time. The birds were quite fearless and at least 10 acres of the crop were beaten flat, with hardly one pod left intact. Loss was estimated at $1,400.

HOMEMAKING GETS TOUGH

English people will find homemaking a bit difficult for awhile, Lord Woolton warned in London, speaking at a "Design At-Home" exhibition. "There will be a great scarcity of three-piece suites," he said. "The public will have to build homes by collecting things. I think it will be good for them and less expensive."

DRESSED CHICKENS and Live Chickens
SCHREIBER'S FARM
Hurley, N.Y.

How much can you pay?

What would you think if the clerk at your favorite store asked to see what you had in your wallet before he decided what to charge you for a shirt?—

Or if, just because you happened to have some money saved up, you were asked to pay more than other people for a haircut, a movie ticket, or even such important items as rent, food and clothing.

That's exactly the kind of reasoning UAW-CIO leaders are using in their wage demands on General Motors—

They point to funds we have saved up over the years to expand and improve our plants and provide more jobs and more production. They say, "Give us that in higher wages."

General Motors does not go along with that kind of reasoning. People should not have to pay more just because they have a savings account—

For many years we have used our savings to expand capacity, create more jobs and provide greater values.

And we intend to keep on doing just that. We are, at present, embarked on a very important reconversion and postwar expansion program. Our objective, now as always—to produce more and better things for more people.

FARMERS TO COOPERATE

Large areas in practically every wheat-growing district of Australia will be sown this fall by co-operative effort. Despairing of getting the supply of tractors which the government had thought would be available, and lacking horses because of drought conditions, the farmers have organized and pooled their machinery resources, Melbourne dispatches state. Tractors which the government is trying to get will arrive in Australia too late for seeding in most Victorian districts, the distracted farmers have at least realized.

ADVERTISE IN THE FREEMAN

OFFICE CAT
By Junius

Pleasure Comes Thru Honest Toil, Not By Self-Indulgence And Indolence, The Man Who Loves His Work Finds His Life A Happy One.

A man visited his physician recently, relative to his prominent stomach. After a careful survey, the Doctor said:

Doctor—You will have to diet, Bill.

Bill—Dye it! Why, what color is it now?

A distant relative is often one who is not distant enough.

We heard a couple of writers talking about their incomes:

First Writer (boasting)—I often get a dollar a word.

Second Writer—I once got $10 a word.

First Writer—Now, I know you're fooling. How did it happen?

Second Writer—The judge had fined me $10 for speeding and when I said "Phooey to you," he made it $40.

Brown smothered his wrath and entered the front room.

Brown (to man tinkering with a lot of wire)—Are you the electrician?

Electrician—Yes, sir.

Brown—Been long in the trade?

Electrician—About a year.

Brown—Ever make any mistakes?

Electrician—Bless you, no.

Brown—Oh, then I suppose it is all right, but the electric stove is playing: "Who Threw The Whiskey In The Well" and the radio is burning up.

Washing dishes is hard on wedding rings.

Politeness costs nothing, which is probably the reason so many of us display so little of it.

The World Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the outstanding characteristics of the Japanese and German war lords, as is being brought out in the Pearl Harbor investigation and through the discovery of secret Nazi records, is their cold-blooded duplicity.

There was (and is) no honesty among them. We see that in the callous trickery which Hitler, Goering and other Nazi leaders used in annexing little Austria, while they kept the rest of Europe quiet with double-talk. We see it in the Jap treachery in striking at Pearl Harbor behind the shield of peace negotiations at Washington.

Every day emphasizes the necessity of removing these warmongers from society. It's gratifying therefore to see the Nuernberg trials of top Nazis opening today before the International War Crimes Tribunal. It's equally satisfactory (and forgive me if I'm wrong) to learn that Baron General Honjo, reputed head of the Militarists who staged the conquest of Manchuria, has committed hari-kari rather than face trial as a war criminal along with numerous other militarists whom General MacArthur has ordered imprisoned pending their appearance before the Allied Court of Justice.

Far be it from us to gloat over Honjo's suicide. As a matter of fact it must be admitted that it takes a deuce of a lot of courage to rip your body open with a sword and then cut your throat to end the job. Still the world will be a better place without Honjo—and without his gang who will come to trial in due course.

However, I don't think we should be very astute analysts if we placed the entire Japanese nation in the same category as Honjo. But the Jap militarists were born crooked. I ran into a startling illustration of that during the First World War. Perhaps I've mentioned this before, if so you can skip it:

While I was stationed in London in 1916 as correspondent I received word from New York that Wall Street was much disturbed over a phenomenon which they couldn't explain. It was a steady flow of gold to Japan, which was one of the Allies. The Japs clearly were collecting gold—but why?

I took this problem to an American banker operating in London. We were sitting in his private office, with the door open into the main room, when I broached the question, and he amazed me by jumping and taking a quick look over his shoulder at that open door to see if anyone had heard. Then he said:

"I can't discuss this here, but come out to my home for dinner tonight and I will tell you about it."

So that night in his den he unfolded an amazing story. The British bankers also had noted the flow of gold to Japan many months before. There were a lot of angles to the operation—movement of securities and so on—but the financial experts finally put the jig-saw puzzle together. When they had it assembled they got a shock. All the evidence indicated that the Japs were getting ready to desert the Allies and switch to Germany.

The reason for this trickery was quite clear. America hadn't yet come into the war, and the German militarists were doing very well for themselves. The Japs figured that the Kaiser was going to win and they wanted to be in on the loot. Before they got around to desert their alliance, the tide began to turn and then America came into the war. So Japan didn't flop.

Edward Carle Plans Store-Apartment Building

Edward Carle of Accord, formerly with the Mohican Co., who has been conducting a grocery store just north of the bridge at Accord, on Route 209, has the base foundation laid for a two-story building, 38 x 70, directly across the road. Mr. Carle purchased from Gross B. Schoonmaker land directly in front of the Schoonmaker residence, a bulldozer being put to work and cutting back the hill to give a level plot for building purposes.

The work of building is being held up because of lack of concrete blocks with which to finish the foundation. It is understood that Mr. Carle will use the first floor of the new building for purpose of a general store, with living apartments on the second floor.

Samuel Tessler Released

Samuel Tessler, 30, of Kerhonkson, RD, who has been held at the county jail on a charge of violation of the parole, was released Monday night by order of Thomas F. Corrigan, state parole officer. Tessler was arrested November 1, following what was claimed to be a "Halloween prank," when a calf was taken belonging to a Pataukunk farmer. Justice Barley gave him five days in the county jail on a petit larceny charge. County Judge Cashin reduced the sentence to two days, when Tessler was taken into custody on the parole violation charge and has since been held at the county jail.

Navy Mothers Club Would Organize Here

The Navy Mothers Club of America with 703 Chapters in the U. S. and Hawaii, and a total membership of 100,000 mothers of men in the U. S. Navy, Coast Guard and Marine Corps, plans to form a new unit in Kingston, according to Mrs. Christine Thompson, New York state organizer.

Anyone interested in affiliating with this new unit here, may have further information by writing to the state organizer, Mrs. Christine Thompson, 102 West 73rd street, New York, 23, N. Y.

The Navy Mothers Club of America is not a wartime organization, but has been in existence since 1932. It has a National Charter registered in Washington and recognized and encouraged by the U. S. Navy. It is one of only 20 clubs recognized by the President's Welfare Control Board, and known as Welfare No. D-18. It is a non-sectarian and non-political organization.

The aim of the Navy Mothers Club is to promote contentment and well-being among the men in service, and to develop a friendly and sympathetic social relationship among the families of men in the U. S. Navy, Coast Guard and Marine Corps. It sponsors a program to spread a better understanding of the U. S. Navy and its ideals.

The Navy Mothers Club of America is primarily interested in the welfare of sailors and their families; visiting men in hospitals, distributing toilet articles, books, cigarettes, writing material, games, Christmas Cheer, pajamas, slippers, bathrobes, laprobes; furnishing sun rooms, victrolas, radios; entertaining with parties, dinners, socials, also with birthday parties in wards of hospitals; and providing handmade layettes for new Navy babies; in general, looking after "our boys" wherever they may be.

Good Taste Today

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

S.O.S. FROM SCHOOL TEACHERS

A letter of unusual importance is one sent me by a group of young teachers who ask: "We wonder if you would be willing to print definite rules which would help us overcome a few problems that we are unable to solve for ourselves. Many kind and well-intentioned people fail to realize that a teacher's job is very unrelaxing and strenuous. They think we just sit in classrooms and hold books! A teacher, worthy of the name, has to be extremely alert throughout the entire school day. Often she must remain after school hours to help backward children and correct papers. Each evening she must prepare her next day's work.

"Our problem, Mrs. Post, is this: Many communities as well as the school administrative boards expect more of us than we are humanly able to do. For example, when asked to teach Sunday school, they think us rude, if we refuse, but they never stop to think that we teach every day of the week and teaching Sunday school is really a 'busman's holiday.' Not only that but there are restrictions on so many things, that we can't live a life that women in every other calling consider normal.

"If you will comment on the following questions, we willingly agree to live up to your rules: (1) Is it fair that we be asked to teach Sunday school without additional salary? (This last is not the real objection, but our pay being small, an additional compensation could mean much to some of us.) (2) Must appearance be strictly tailored? (3) Smoking, (4) Spirituous beverages, (5) Men friends?"

Answers: (1) Not without acceptable salary and not by compulsion. (2) Simple clothes, not necessarily tailormade ones, are suitable. It should be remembered that children are always sensitive to beauty. Hair should be becoming but tidy. Skirts should fall over the knees and not ride above them. Wear whatever shoes you like. Any make-up lightly done is all right. Colorless nails are best, but very pale tints are proper. Light red is questionable and maroon is not approved. (3) It is best not to acquire this or any habit not permitted on school grounds. (4) Same answer as 3, underscored! (5) Yes, certainly if not of the wrong sort or too many or seen at wrong hours.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's relief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Baron Honjo Kills Self; Ringleader In Manchurian War

Kazou, not succeed to his title of baron.

The retired general, who was serving as president of the organization for relief of demobilized soldiers, had gone to his office early this morning as usual although the organization had been ordered abolished by MacArthur.

Learned of Order in Paper

The 69-year-old Honjo's eldest son told Kyodo News Ageney that his father learned of the arrest order when he read a morning newspaper and feared he would be tried as a war criminal.

"Upon reading it, he felt full responsibility," the son said. "He told us he would got to court and express his beliefs, then take whatever responsibility fell on him. There were no signs that he contemplated suicide.

Honjo's Tokyo home burned in a May 25 air raid. The general since had lived in an air raid shelter in his garden. His son quoted him as remarking "I'm old now and can do nothing for my country. It's up to the young fellows."

Most of Honjo's military career was devoted to the Kwantung army push northward along the Asiatic continent. He served as captain in the Russo-Japanese war and later as regimental commander in the Siberian occupation.

Preceding the Manchurian imperialism, he was adviser to war lord Chang Tso-Lin from 1921 to 1923. Subsequently he served in North China and other continental commands until he became commander of the Kwantung Army in 1931 with the rank of lieutenant general.

The Manchurian incident exploded under his command and he was considered the major planner and executioner of the entire imperialistic scheme which was conducted independent of Tokyo.

to the picket line." Then he added: "Do you?"

Wilson, approached as he left a session of the labor-management conference in Washington, declined to comment on the merits of the proposal. He said he and other company officials would have to examine it more carefully and expressed doubt a reply could be readied in the time allotted.

As the arbitration proposal was announced, George Romney, general manager of the Automobile Manufacturers' Association said a General Motors strike would shut down "all but one other passenger car producer in the country within a week."

Romney did not name the one, which he said could maintain only 50 per cent production, but he admitted the Ford Motor Co. obtains only one part from General Motors.

The arrests grew out of incidents staged in the Stadium restaurant, according to the police. Peter Scully was charged with using indecent language, while William was charged by Merritt Every, Jr., with assaulting him in the restaurant.

Judge Cahill gave Peter Scully a suspended sentence, while William Scully was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail.

Score of Hitler's Henchmen Go On Trial; Full Indictment Read

bolt upright when he was named in the indictment.

Nods With Emphasis

Goering nodded with emphasis when the prosecutor recalled his announcement of 10 years ago that Germany was building a military airforce.

The four judges representing the Allies and their four alternates filed into the courtroom at 10:01 a. m. 4:01 a. m. (E.S.T.) and with the briefest preface regarding the importance and necessity of bringing the accused Nazis to judgement, presiding Lord Justice Lawrence ordered the reading of the indictment.

Prosecutor Alderman concluded the reading of the first count of the indictment with these words:

"The defendants with divers other persons are guilty of a common plan of conspiracy for accomplishment of crimes against peace—against humanity—war crimes not only against armed forces of their enemies but also against non belligerent civilian populations."

After reading five paragraphs of count two—titled "Crimes Against Peace"—the court recessed at 10:12 (G.M.T.) for fifteen minutes.

During the recess, ropes were stretched to form a corridor through the courtroom through which American Security Guards—soldiers in shining white helmets—escorted several defendants to the latrine.

The 20 Nazi defendants were dressed in simple uniforms without medals or insignia of rank or in simple civilian suits donated from charity stores.

German counsel, sitting in two rows in front of the prisoners dock, followed intently the slow careful reading of the documents.

Through the reading of the counts Arthur Seyss-Inquart, Hitler's trigger man in the 1938 seizure of Austria, stared blankly through thick lensed spectacles as his role in the Nazi pre-war scheming for power was unfolded.

Would Challenge Jurisdiction

A German attorney disclosed that Goering's council, on behalf of the entire defense group, intended to offer a joint declaration challenging the jurisdiction of the International Court. This was expected after the indictment reading was completed and the defendants had entered pleas.

The Nazis have had since October 18 to read and study the indictment, filed against them at a court session in Berlin.

But its repetition in human accents in Nuernberg's Palace of Justice under the glare of spotlights assumed new dramatic power.

Goering persisted in out-gesturing his Nazi cronies and in retaining the courtroom's interest. He leaned forward to kibitz, over the shoulder of a German lawyer. He scratched his nose vigorously, he held his heavy jaw with his fist.

When the assistant French prosecutor, Charles Dubost, started reading the third count of the marathon indictment, the former Reichsmarshal was having trouble with his earphones. Finally he took them off and leaned forward, hand in chin, while the Frenchman droned on, reading the long atrocity count.

The rest of the defendants merely looked bored.

Fritz Sauckel, who was Nazi chief of foreign slave labor, peered at the packed press gallery.

Hess, toward the end of the morning session, started a long and animated conversation with Ribbentrop. Goering sitting next to them, ignored both.

The defendants exhibited their greatest solemnity while a portion of the indictment was read describing the murder of millions of Nazi victims in Europe.

Evan Hans Frank, whom the Poles called "The Butcher" while he was ruling their land, sat with his chin resting on his chest and with his earphones clasped to his ears. Earlier, he had smiled frequently while gazing around the courtroom.

Among those attending the opening session were Lt. Gen. Lucian K. Truscott, commander of the U. S. Third Army, and Sen. Claude Pepper, Florida Democrat.

During the recess for lunch, the defendants remained in the court and ate heartily from American army messkits. Goering's appetite was particularly keen...

Nazis Shake Hands

When the court was cleared, the Nazis leaped up and began shaking hands with each other enthusiastically. Though many had occupied adjoining cells for months, solitary confinement had restricted their conversations and many were able to exchange words for the first time since reaching Nuernberg.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, former Reichsbank president, engaged Albert Speer, Reichsminister for production, in lively banter, commenting:

"I have read the indictment so many times myself that if they read it in court just once more, I'll have it memorized."

The Nazis talked animatedly with their lawyers just before court resumed.

Field Marshal Wilhelm Kietel, once chief of the German high command, and Col. Gen. Gustav Jodl, former chief of the general staff and Hitler's military adviser, stood in neatly pressed uniforms. Dr. Franz Exner of Munich University, Jodl's counsel, wore a purple robe.

Grand Adm. Karl Doenitz's lawyer, Otto Kranzbuehler, wore the gold-striped uniform of a German naval captain for he was only recently detached from mine sweeping under British orders, to represent his former commander in chief.

Full Text Causes Surprise

There was some surprise among spectators at the trial because the tribunal had presented the full text of the indictment, instead of going ahead with its previous intention to eliminate the recital of details. It was evident that the court thought it best to read the full text to avoid a possible protest by German lawyers.

Early in the afternoon session, the French completed reading the third count of the indictment, recounting Nazi conscription of foreign labor, brutal Germanization of occupied territories, the killing of hostages and the plunder of public and private properties.

The deputy Soviet prosecutor then started reading the fourth count—"crimes against humanity."

The Red Army colonel, in khaki tunic and blue trousers, spoke with a classroom singsong into the microphone.

Goering picked up his earphones and listened curiously. Ribbentrop, who had a short-lived diplomatic triumph by negotiating the 1939 Russian-German neutrality pact, looked wistfully at the bench when the Red Army judge, Maj. Gen. I. T. Nikitchenko, and his alternate, Col. A. F. Volchoff, turned the pages of their copy of the indictment.

The voice of the Red Army that the Nazis heard was not the simple, defiant cry of "death to the German invader" which had echoed over the steppes since 1941. It was a measured, scientific recapitulation of the horrors of concentration camps in Poland and Russia.

Doenitz, his caggy face impassive, was the only Nazi who seemed to remain entirely oblivious to the Russian prosecutor. The charges in his case concern activities on the high seas against the western Allies.

But Hans Frank, once the Governor-General of Poland, cupped his right ear and leaned forward nervously.

west coast we are not stepping backwards."

The difference of opinion apparently was not resolved, for Richardson testified that early in 1941 he was relieved of the Pacific Fleet command, returning to Washington in March to become a member of the Navy Department General Board. He now is a special assistant to the secretary of the navy.

Brewster told a reporter that as he reads the events, Richardson was relieved because he could not agree with Mr. Roosevelt's policy of keeping the fleet in Hawaiian waters.

End of Richardson

"It was a case of a bluff old sea dog who talked right up to the President, and that was the end of Richardson," Brewster asserted.

In Chicago last night, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz told a news conference that the Japanese fleet steaming to the Pearl Harbor attack "was not sighted by any U. S. ship or plane."

Nimitz was questioned about an assertion by Rep. Gearhart (R-Calif) at the hearing that a naval officer had advised him the cruiser Boise sighted a Japanese naval force at sea in the week before the attack but did not report it because of orders for radio silence.

The captain of the Boise, if he had sighted Jap vessels in force or position that threatened us, would have broken his radio silence like that," Nimitz said, snapping his fingers.

Farm Bureau Urges Industry, Labor To Produce Items

State Organization Lays Stress on Need for Machinery and Materials

Farmers' immediate need for such new products as automobiles, trucks, farm machinery, fencing and building materials was accented in a resolution adopted by the 30th annual meeting of the New York State Farm Bureau Federation in Syracuse, to which Vernon A. Barnhart and Elmer Fisher of Ulster county were the delegates. The resolution urged "management and labor to settle their differences promptly and to get down to business and turn out the goods needed by farmers and the public."

High farm operating costs, the advisability of greater mechanization and the need for higher yields per acre and per animal were stressed at the two-day meeting of the policy-making agricultural organization.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey, principal speaker, told more than 1,000 persons attending the yearly farm dinner of the Farm Bureau Federation, the State Federation of Home Bureaus and the State 4-H Extension Federation that "probably the most important problem ahead for the individual farmer is increased efficiency in production."

Citing agriculture's direct competition with industry for manpower, the more than doubling of farm wages in the past five years, the doubling also of poultry and dairy feed costs, the scarcity and expensiveness of farm machinery, the governor said:

Stresses Efficiency

"I want to warn you with all the force at my command that from the information available to me I do not now see any likelihood of a substantial reduction in the costs of farming. The only answer to these conditions lies in a broad program of increased efficiency on the farm and a fair share of the consumer's dollar to the producer of the food."

Several other speakers touched on the same problems, as did one of the 21 adopted resolutions. The latter declared, "We strongly urge Congress to continue for one more year existing farm labor legislation under the direction of Extension Service and including provision for the importation of foreign workers in case returning war veterans and factory workers do not return to farms and food processing plants in sufficient numbers."

Other important resolutions passed by the 99 delegates from the state's 56 agricultural counties:

Snow Removal

Urged the coming legislature to amend the Highway Law, "to the end that the state shall pay at least 75 per cent of the cost of removing snow from the State highway system under a plan whereby the removal work will be done by the Counties and towns so that the counties and towns may have equipment big enough and good enough to do a satisfactory job in removing snow from county and town roads as well as State highways."

Requested "the federal government to take the leadership among the United Nations, to the end that world policies be adopted to stabilize the world price level."

Recommended that "the food subsidy program be tapered off as rapidly as is feasible."

Officers Re-elected

Warren W. Hawley of Batavia was re-elected both as president of the Federation and as a member of the board of directors. Those other officers also were re-elected: Don J. Wickham of Hector, vice president; E. S. Foster, of Ithaca, general secretary; C. Kenneth Bullock of Ithaca, associate secretary, and Andrew Muckle of Stanley, treasurer. Stewart Child of Malone was named a director, succeeding Earl B. Clark, North Norwich who retired at his own request, and Harold J. Simonson, Glen Head, was re-elected to the board.

DuMond a Speaker

Headline speakers included Walter Hammond, Big Spring, Texas, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation and a director of the American Farm Bureau Federation; C. Chester DuMond, Albany, State Commissioner of Agriculture, and H. E. Babcock, Ithaca, chairman of the Cornell University Board of Trustees.

Many Deer, Bears Are Being Bagged

According to reports numerous deer and some bears are being taken in the Catskills region, and also on the Shawangunks.

A Shandaken resident said this morning that Sunday a hunting party stopping at the homes of Chester Dutcher and sons, Fox Hollow, had bagged a total of seven bucks, and that Marshall Yerry of Bronxville and two friends stopping at his brother, Ralph Yerry's Shandaken, had three bucks Saturday. In addition at least eight or ten cars carrying carcasses of deer were noticed going down the road.

Frank Gray of Kerhonkson, one of a hunting party camped at the 4-mile post, below the fire tower on the Shawangunks, got a fine 8-point buck Friday. Reports are that a number of deer have been shot in the Lake Mohonk area on Shawangunk.

Earl Somerville of Fleischmanns, bus driver for the Pine Hill line, on Friday got a bear that is reported to have weighed around 300 pounds. Sunday a 200-pound bear was shot at Big Indian by a Kingston hunter.

Will Sell 125,000 Cases

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 20 (AP)—Partial lifting of Pennsylvania's whisky rationing program was in prospect today following announcement by the State Liquor Control Board that it will place 125,000 cases of whisky on unrestricted sale November 26. Board Chairman Frederick T. Gelder said the unrationed whisky includes some "pretty well known" blends but that restrictions must remain on bonded whiskies and some other brands because there "is still not enough available to go around."

Home Bureau Will Close

The Ulster County Home Bureau office will not be open Friday and Saturday.

British pilots who unavoidably helped to destroy churches in Europe have been among the heaviest contributors to funds to rebuild them, said the Rev. UlsterVictoryLoan Hits the Halfway Mark, $775,000

With the halfway mark reached in the Victory Loan Drive, Walter Donnarumma, Ulster county chairman revealed today that Ulster county has sold $775,000 in bonds to individual investors and has attained 50 per cent of the county quota.

"However, with this result achieved," he said, "we still have a long way to go in order that Ulster county can gain a place on the honor roll of New York state counties for the Victory Loan. Again, we urge everyone to make purchases immediately. This is the last loan drive and as the name implies, it is the Victory Loan. We should all appreciate the end of hostilities by revealing our gratitude in the purchase of Victory Bonds.

"At this time, we would like to urge the thousands of people who are receiving Christmas Club checks, to invest a good share of them in Victory Bonds. Again, we remind our people, that they can consult with their banks or issuing agents in regard to the best bond which they should buy.

"Here in Ulster county, we would like to over-subscribe our Victory Loan. In this way, it would be a tribute to the living and dead of our military forces who brought us victory."

Rent Violations Are Charged to Realty Owners

New York, Nov. 19—(Special)—Complaints were filed in United States District Court here today by the Office of Price Administration charging Philip Slutsky, owner of a building at 6-8 Backman avenue, Ellenville, and John Galati, operating the Galati House, East Main street, New Paltz, with violating the maximum rent regulations set up for the Poughkeepsie Defense-Rental Area.

They are among a number of landlords charged in similar complaints today with violations in Poughkeepsie, Beacon and other cities in the area. The charges are that tenants were asked to pay higher prices than was permitted and that the landlords either failed to make returns to the O.P.A. of changes of tenants or filed false statements. Some were alleged to have made false statements as to their ceilings.

The court is asked to award the O.P.A. an amount equivalent to triple the overcharges and to enjoin the defendants from further such alleged ceiling violations.

Hudson Valley League

Trailways played host to Wayside of Ellenville at the Central Rec Alleys Sunday afternoon, and won all three games. This makes a total of nine wins in the last three weeks for the Trailways. Hitting games of 979, 1066, 981 for a total of 3026, the Trailways were only 73 pins short of the high triple now held by Jones Dairy, 3099. MacLellan was high with a 258 single and 663 triple. Also hitting the maples at a 600 clip were Sangi with 617 and LaRocca with 606. Blackwell of the Waysides also posted a nice 609 triple.

Jones Dairy traveled to Monticello and dropped two games out of three to Hammond Cooks of that city. Despite some excellent bowling by John Ferraro, who totaled 656 for his three games, the Dairy boys were able to win only the last game. Joneses hit 2629 against Hammond Cooks 2771.

Van Kleeck's Truck Service, leading the league at the start of this week's matches, traveled to Middletown Saturday night and lost all three games to the Elks of that city. Van Kleecks rolled 2639 to the Elks 2849. Sampson with 579 triple starred for the local boys. "Sponge Ball" honors for the Kingston teams this week, goes to "Curly" Flemming with 457 triple at Monticello.

Ulster County Will Have American Legion Cage Loop

At a recent meeting in Kingston Post's Memorial Building an American Legion Basketball League was formed and tentative plans made for the seven team loop to get going early in December.

Charles J. Turck, athletic officer of Kingston Post, who was chosen as chairman of arrangements, named the communities in Ulster county furnishing teams as: Kingston, Saugerties, Marlborough, Highland, Port Ewen, Ellenville and New Paltz.

"We anticipate a successful season," Turck said, "and there should be some lively competition when the Legion teams of the seven communities start campaigning for the basketball championship of Ulster county."

As a preview of the opening of the schedule, Kingston will play Saugerties on the latter's court in the Saugerties Municipal Auditorium, Thanksgiving night.

Athletic Officer Turck said he wasn't certain about a home court for the Kingston Legion, but hoped that the vets would be able to procure the municipal auditorium.

Sam Byrd Wins $2,000 Bond Prize In Mobile Golf

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 20 (AP)—Sam Byrd of Detroit, winner of Mobile's inaugural Azalea Open, will be using his old regulation putter when he starts out in the $10,000 Montgomery, Ala., Invitation Golf Tournament Thursday.

The former New York Yankee outfielder took the $2,000 Victory Bond first prize money in the Mobile meet by one stroke yesterday in a playoff with Dutch Harrison of Little Rock and he credits his thin-bladed stroker with pulling him through.

He was using a heavy-bladed club in the finals of the tourney here Sunday when Harrison breezed in with a 69 to overcome a three-stroke disadvantage and force him into a playoff. Most of Byrd's putts were curling past the hole or halting on the lip of the cup, refusing to go in, and he took a 72, his worst round of the meet.

Things were different yesterday when he switched over to the regulation job, whose age was indicated by the rust around the bottom of the shaft.

Sinking most of the short ones and pulling up close on the long putts, Byrd blazed in with a three-under-par 69 in the playoff while Harrison was coming through with a 70.

Bartolo won a unanimous verdict in a 10-round non-championship bout, taking every round from the game, 21-year-old Wolverine.

The champion weighed 128¾, Leslie 127.

Eight Leading Schools Band Together in Grid Agreement

Victory Over Penn Convinces Scribes Army Is No. 1 Club

New York, Nov. 20 (AP)—Army's 61-0 romp over Penn convinced all the grid writers, except two, that the Cadets are the number one college football team in the nation. The two dissenters of the 83 scribes participating in the Associated Press' weekly poll liked Alabama and the University of California at Los Angeles.

Only once before, when Notre Dame was unanimous choice two years ago, had an eleven so completely dominated the voting. Now even the coaching profession is joining the chorus of praise for the uncrowned champions whose only remaining game is their Dec. 1 date with Navy.

Based on 10 points for a first place vote, nine for second and so on down to one for tenth, the Cadets picked up 823 in the voting, an edge of 198 over runnerup Navy.

While Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis were having another touchdown picnic against the Quakers, Navy retained enough backing off an easy win over Wisconsin to hold second place despite strong challenges by Alabama and Indiana.

The 'Bama Crimson Tide drubbed Vanderbilt, 71-0, but remained in third position ahead of Bo McMillin's "por lil boys" from Indiana as the first four clubs retained their relative positions.

The leading teams: (First place votes in parenthesis):

Army (81)	898
Navy	700
Alabama (1)	611
Indiana	539
Notre Dame	496
Oklahoma A. & M.	336
Ohio State	239
Michigan	204
St. Mary's	133
Texas	101

Second ten:

11, Penn 84; 12, U.C.L.A. (1) 74; 13, Virginia 60; 14, Tennessee 36; 15, Duke 35; 16, Missouri 32; 17, Tulsa 21; 18, Purdue 20; 19, Louisiana State 16; 20, Mississippi State 12.

Honorable mention: Columbia 10, Georgia 9, Holy Cross 8, Temple and Rice 5 each, Southern California 2, Washington 2.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 20 (AP)—For the first time since they began meeting each other on the gridiron in the 1870's, eight leading educational institutions of the east have banded together to play football under the terms of a formal agreement, beginning next season.

They are Brown, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard, Yale, Princeton and the University of Pennsylvania, all of which have signed an agreement "for the purpose of continuing college football in such a way as to retain the value of the game while keeping it in fitting proportion to the fundamental purposes of academic life," it was announced today.

Freshmen were barred from varsity competition and post-season games were banned under two of the stipulations of the agreement.

"In the total life of the campus, emphasis upon intercollegiate competition must be brought into harmony with the essential educational purposes of the institution," the agreement said.

"In general terms, the problem is one of avoiding the well-recognized excesses of intercollegiate football while retaining and enhancing the values which are known to lie in the sport."

George A. Brakeley, vice president of Princeton University and spokesman for the signatory institutions, explained that the governing boards are solely interested in the promotion of education and research in this country and that they view properly conducted intercollegiate football as a helpful phase of college education.

The agreement stated that no student would be eligible who has received financial support from any source except from personal or family resources, in return for services (other than of an athletic character) rendered through employment at normal wages, from scholarships awarded through regular academic channels, or from government grants to war veterans.

Nee With Phillies

Philadelphia, Nov. 20 (AP)—Johnny Nee, who signed such baseball greats as Ben Chapman, Bill Dickey, Spud Chandler, Dixie Walker and Tommy Heinrich for the New York Yankees, has been appointed scout for the Philadelphia Phillies of the National League. Nee recently quit the Yankees after serving 19 years as a scout.

Bowlers Shower Hospital Vets With Gifts Monday

Monday was a gala day at Castle Point Veterans' Hospital when a committee of Kingston's lady bowlers arrived with carloads of gifts and a special entertainment program for Uncle Sam's convalescents.

Dorothea Flemings, chairman of the group, said the veterans were extremely happy and appreciative. "Kingston has done a lot for us," one told her as he expressed the sentiments of the men and women in the institution.

The trip was originally scheduled for last night, but gifts poured in to the extent that they had to be loaded into autos and delivered in the afternoon. Bowlers, men and women; their friends and generous merchants of Kingston furnished the gifts.

Women who visited the hospital yesterday were Dorothea Flemings, Evelyn Dolson, Mrs. Addison Jones, Hilda Marshall and Evelyn Auchmoody. Pat Fern and Johnny Marco, two veterans who will be discharged soon, accompanied them through the hospital and introduced them to the patients as they handed out the gifts.

Among the presents were toilet articles, fruit, drawing materials, oranges, bananas, socks, handkerchiefs, brushes, candy, cookies and other footstuffs.

"We're planning another trip to the hospital," Dot Flemings told the press, "and hope that it will help the veterans have a merrier Christmas."
